

Annual Trip: Suffolk County Police Museum

Sponsored by the Local History Committee of RASD

Thursday, May 27th, 10 am

Join the Long Island History Committee of RASD for a tour of the Suffolk County Police Museum in Yaphank. The “1925 Station House” is a replica of the former Babylon Village Police Department, including both the desk and cell block. View weapons from the 1920’s, including a 1921 Thompson submachine gun.

Following the tour, join us for a delicious lunch at the Millhouse Inn, 284 Mill Road, Yaphank.

The tour begins at 10am and is free! Lunch reservations are scheduled for noon. Each attendee will be able to choose from the menu, and is responsible for paying for your own lunch.
